Only two homesites remain available in Fairway Estates. This is an exceptional opportunity to secure one of them and create a fully customized residence within one of Panama City's most prestigious and established residential communities. Located within Fairway Estates at Santa Maria Golf & Country Club, this impressive 9,212 sq ft homesite provides the space and flexibility required to design an outstanding contemporary residence tailored entirely to your lifestyle. Fairway Estates is an exclusive, low-density residential enclave characterized by substantial luxury homes and an exceptional private setting. With the community virtually sold out, opportunities to acquire undeveloped land within Fairway Estates have become increasingly rare. This scarcity makes the property attractive not only to families looking to build their dream home, but also to investors seeking to secure a premium land a...
