Discover an exceptional investment with this African palm farm, featuring an established business generating consistent monthly income of $2,600 from the sale of palm oil fruits. This property not only provides a stable income stream but also promises profitable exploitation for at least another 15 years. Spanning across 16.5 hectares, the farm presents a unique opportunity to recover your investment in approximately 10 years. By maintaining the current operation, the farm has the potential to finance itself, offering sustained profitability and complete ownership of this valuable land by the end of the period. Ideal for bold investors seeking a smart agricultural investment, this farm offers not only financial security but also the potential to expand and diversify your portfolio. Don't miss the chance to acquire a property that pays for itself while generating significant income.
